Tips on working with your public health unit to do Brush-a-mania presentations

1. Set up a meeting or telephone call with an oral health representative from your public health unit and let him/her know that you are doing a dental presentation and would like some help.
2. Ask if they have resources that you can use.
3. Ask which schools are at higher risk for oral disease. Contact these schools and ask if you can do a dental presentation.
4. Ask the public health unit representative if you can leave Brush-a-mania postcards at their clinics.
5. Ask for tips on engaging with the schools to try to set up dental presentations.
6. Invite a representative from a public health unit to join you in the presentation.
